TRANSPORT TRAFFIC SAFETY ROADS 2024

ABOUT

We now understand that:

When we introduce movement into our daily lives, we increase the risk of harm to ourselves and others. We must always remember that our safety depends on the actions of others and their safety depends on our behaviours. We therefore have a shared responsibility to keep one another safe. As such we owe a duty of care to ourselves and others.

TRANSPORT is the safe movement of goods, services and passengers from one place to another. It links production, distribution, exchange and all other related activities.

TRAFFIC is the safe movement of people and vehicles, in a road sense referred to any form of motorised or non-motorised vehicle or person moving to reach a specific destination along with designing vehicles which will both react in a positive way when colliding with another person or object.

SAFETY the freedom to move about without fear of harm or unacceptable risks directly caused by hazards or the actions of others whilst recognising that road users make mistakes and training road users in an appropriate and proper manner.

ROADS providing a safe thoroughfare for the movement of traffic and connects one place to another or networks within towns and communities used by vehicles (motorised and non-motorised) and pedestrians and being designed and maintained in a way in which its features are forgiving in the event of a crash.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

This one day event of a conference style nature is for any person who is involved in the practice and promotion of road safety in terms of casualty reduction, reducing the risk to road users and making the environment smarter with active travel, reduction in CO2 emissions and innovation in mind.

It is specifically for

- those working in the private, commercial, statutory, non-statutory and voluntary sectors;
- those who work as community leaders;
- those involved in education, training and enforcement.

Conducted by a series of presentations, interactive sessions and discussions we will explore interventions designed to make our transport traffic safety and road systems work in a more cohesive way.

and will be of special interest to those involved in the areas of

- Behavioural Change Activities;
- Training providers for those learning to drive or engaged in the improvement of driving skills, assessment of drivers and re-training schemes;
- Those engaged in managing fleets, logistics, transport management and managing drivers who are driving for work activity;
- Road Engineers, Road Planners, Road Safety Auditors;
- Police, Fire, Ambulance Services, Public and Independent Collision Investigation;
- Road Safety Officers, Active Travel Officers;
- Those working in Health and Safety, Personnel/Human Resources responsibilities and Wellbeing;
- There is also a place for members of the public who have a genuine interest in the safety Transport Traffic Safety and Roads.
